

European Solidarity Seminar MOBILITY & MIGRATION

Are you a young person interested in climate action, migration, democracy and diversity? Then join our brand-new and interactive European Solidarity Seminars. Applications for our seminar "Mobility & Migration" taking place from October 28 until November 1, 2021, in Lübeck, are open now: www.same-network.org/european-solidarity-seminar-mobility-migration

Application deadline:
September 1, 2021

ABOUT THE EVENT

What does (human) migration mean? Why do people leave their homes and partially families behind? What are the problems migrants and especially refugees have to face? Between opportunities and challenges, what are possible migration impacts on/in Europe?

During the seminar, we will learn about, discuss and research different aspects of migration. We will have a deeper look at the discussion about and (self)representation of migrants.

The detailed focus will base on your expectations presented in the application!

Last, but not least, we will deal with the question, what this has to do with us and what the role of us, as part of the civil society, could be.

Co-funded by the European Union

Program (all times are CET)

Thursday, October 28

- Arrival day

Friday, October 29

- Intro, expectations & getting to know each other
- Introduction to migration
- Privileges: walking in the shoes of others
- How does the choice of words and pictures form opinions?

Saturday, October 30

- Open space for specific topic on migration depending on your wishes

Sunday, October 31

- Wrap up from previous days
- What can I, can we do?
- Feedback & evaluation

Monday, November 1

- Departure day

Practical information

Place: Lübeck, Germany

Language: English

Number of participants: 15 - 20

Age: 16-23 (exceptions possible)

Food and accommodation costs are covered by the organization.

European Solidarity Seminars

Every day decisions are made that affect the future of young people in Europe. The way we deal with the ongoing climate crisis, nationalism and populism, migration, discrimination, or the current Covid-19 pandemic will shape the future of our continent for ages. One of the central questions is, how much solidarity we want to show in Europe. Does solidarity know borders?

Solidarity Action Day
Movement in Europe

SAME stands for 'Solidarity Action Day Movement in Europe'. The movement includes several European youth organizations that carry out an annual Solidarity Action Day. During this day, pupils get the chance to exercise a job of their choice instead of going to school. Their salaries are used to support youth-related projects all over the whole world.

About the trainer

My name is Hadil Freihat. I have studied BA Media and Mass-Communication. Currently, I am finishing up my master degree in Cultural Relations and Migration. I have participated in several educational pieces of training, among which are interactive conflict transformation and Human Capacity Development: Social Participation. My previous work experience includes working with refugees and host communities in Jordan and Lebanon. I enjoy deep discussions and working with people. I am looking forward to working/learning together.

I am Anna Lange, an activist, nature lover and traveler, who is involved in informal education for 20 years now. I started as a volunteer for Schüler Helfen Leben and continued participating at, organizing and leading seminars, conferences and other gatherings throughout my life. My favorite topics and fields of interest are (anti-)discrimination, borders, migration, project-development and management as well as self-organization and empowerment. I studied and am studying Cultural Work, Intercultural Communication Studies and Migration Studies.

Schüler Helfen Leben (SHL) is the biggest relief organization led by young people in Germany and one of the founding members of SAME. SHL supports youth and education projects in Southeastern Europe, Jordan and Germany in the areas of anti-discrimination, youth activism and support of refugees.